Tips for Bicyclists: Discover Vienna by Bicycle

You can travel fast with a bicycle, but still slowly enough to enjoy Vienna's sights on the way. Vienna offers more than 1,300 kilometers of bicycle paths, some of them in areas with hardly any traffic.

Explore Vienna by bicycle: whether you bring your own or rent one, the city has a lot to offer to bicyclists. We have collected a few tips for your bicycling tour through the metropolis on the Danube, such as where you can rent a bicycle or get one repaired, at what times you are allowed to take it on Vienna's public transportation system, and when guided city tours are offered for bicyclists. The Vienna Woods are a real mountain biking paradise.

From the Danube bicycle path to the center of Vienna

The famous bicycle path along the Danube leads from Germany through Austria to Hungary. Many bicyclists arrive in Vienna via this route, either for a stopover or as their final destination. To reach the center from the Danube Bicycle Path in the northern part of the city, in Nussdorf, turn onto the Danube Canal Bicycle Path and proceed to Urania-Sternwarte.

At Urania, you join the Sightseeing Bicycle Path Ringstrasse (“Ring-Rund-Radweg”) that encircles Vienna's old city. You can see famous attractions along the way, such as the Opera, Parliament and Burgtheater. Several important bicycle paths branch off the Ring-Rund-Radweg, like the one from Schwarzenbergplatz to the Central Station via Argentinierstrasse; and at Bellariastrasse to Westbahnhof (Western Railway Station).

If you want to return to the Danube Bicycle Path from Urania, take the Aspern Bridge, Praterstrasse and Prater Hauptallee, where you can find the ramp to the Prater Bridge (before you reach the bridge, to your left): Cross the bridge and follow Hubertusdamm downstream and continue to the Lobau, a river forest with meadows at the south-eastern edge of Vienna. From here, the Danube Bicycle Path is signposted until Hainburg as you continue to travel through the wetland forest, which is part of one of Europe's last primeval forests. This section of the Danube Bicycle Path is also ideal for a shorter excursion.

Bicyclist-friendly hotels & pensions

About 100 Viennese hotels and pensions of all categories gladly accommodate bicyclists. They offer locked parking areas free of charge, bicycle repair and special information for bicyclists. In our Accommodation List, you can search specifically for hotels and B&Bs providing services for cyclists and find addresses, telephone and fax numbers as well as email addresses for these establishments.

You can book your cyclist room immediately before embarking on your journey here:

- Charging point at Vienna University of Technology, 4th district, Wiedner Hauptstrasse 8-10
- Charging point on Danube Island at bike rental "Donau-Fritzi", 19th district, Donaupromenade / on the International Danube Cycle Path

You can find a list of all free electric bike charging stations at www.tanke-wienenergie.at/unsere-tankstellen

Public air pumps

Easy to operate, public air pumps are available to cyclists in heavily frequented places in Vienna. The pumps are located at:

- Karlsplatz (junction of Wiedner Hauptstrasse)
- Universitätsring (by Café Landtmann)
- Praterstern (next to bike count point)
- Siebensternplatz
- Rennweg (junction of Rechte Bahngasse)
- Westbahnhof (Europaplatz)
- Urban Loritz Platz
- Bruno-Pittermann-Platz (Längenfeldgasse subway station)
- Währinger Strasse (junction of Sensengasse)
- Engerthstrasse (Millennium Tower)
- Peter-Jordan-Strasse (BOKU, Türkenschanzpark)
- Seestadt Aspern (U2 station Seestadt)

Around the Old City on the sightseeing bicycle path “Ringstrasse”

We recommend that you plan your bicycle trip with the help of a city map or a bicycle map of Vienna. The city map of the Vienna Tourist Board is available free of charge at your hotel or at our Tourist Information Offices (1st district, Albertinaplatz/ Maysedergasse & 10th district, Am Hauptbahnhof 1, both daily from 9 am – 7 pm). You can find tips about bicycle maps of Vienna in “Literature and Maps”. Your hotel will also be glad to give you information about particular routes.

Start at Marienbrücke near Schwedenplatz (U1, U4, tram 1, 2) and continue along Franz-Josefs-Kai to Urania. There, turn onto the Sightseeing Bicycle Path Ringstrasse, which will take you along this splendid avenue around the old city – passing many of Vienna’s best attractions.

Take a look at the splendor of art nouveau at Otto Wagner’s Postsparkasse (Post Office Savings Bank), stop to take a picture of the golden Johann Strauss monument in Vienna’s City Park, and ride past the Vienna State Opera – one of the most renowned opera houses in the world, with a constantly changing schedule on 300 days per year.

The Imperial Palace greets you with imperial magnificence, the Museum of Fine Arts across the street boasts the largest collection of Bruegels in the world, and the new MuseumsQuartier behind it is among the ten largest museum districts in the world. And of course, the dinosaur skeletons at Vienna’s Museum of Natural History are a highlight for young and old alike.

The Parliament, City Hall, Burgtheater and University offer a representative sample of late nineteenth century architecture. At the place where you can see the neo-gothic Votivkirche, the Ring slopes slightly downward. This means that you might move a little faster on your way down to the Danube Canal – please pay special attention to crossing traffic (there is also a tram crossing).

At the Danube Canal you have the choice to either bike along the promenade at the canal itself (exit ramp on the left, near Augartenbrücke), or continue along the old city – in both cases, you will return to your starting point after 4.5 kilometers of pedaling, with a wealth of new impressions.

Other thematic bicycle paths ...

... such as the Danube Canal bicycle path, the Wiental bicycle path or the adventure bicycle path “Dampfross & Drahtesel” (along an old railway route) can be found on the websites of the City of Vienna:

www.wien.gv.at/verkehr/radfahren/radnetz/themenradwege/

www.fahrrad.at/alltag-am-rad/radwege/

Tip: To the Kahlenbergerdorf vineyards

If you pedal west of the city center on the Danube Bicycle Path, the attractive route will take you along the Danube into the idyllic Kahlenbergerdorf. This quaint village at the foot of the Leopoldsberg has maintained its original appearance as a wine-growing center and is famous for its Heurige. Particularly athletic bicyclists will continue along the route to Klosterneuburg and visit its 900-year-old abbey.

Citybike Vienna

Citybike Vienna is a public bike rental system that allows you to make short trips from A to B by bicycle throughout Vienna. The Citybikes may be rented out and returned at any of the public stations in Vienna. Information about how many bicycles are available at which stations can be obtained at the terminals and on the Internet (citybikewien.at).

- Locations: There are over 120 stations that are often located near subway stations or other public transportation.
- Registration: On the Internet at www.citybikewien.at (website optimized for mobile use!) or directly at the Citybike Terminal with a credit card (Master Card, Visa, JCB) or a bank card (Maestro or V PAY card) issued by an Austrian bank. One-time registration fee: € 1 (only one bicycle per card!)
- Rental charges: The duration of the rental starts with the removal of a Citybike from the bike box and ends when the Citybike is returned to a bike box. Caution: Wait until the green lights comes on, which signals the end of the rental.

The first hour is free, after which a trip fee is charged:

2nd hour: € 1 per started hour

3rd hour: € 2 per started hour

4th – 120th hour: € 4 for each started hour. Flat fee for exceeding the hours: € 600

Loss: If the bicycle is lost, the renter is liable for the value of the Citybike.

Citybike Tourist Card at RadSTATION

RadSTATION at Vienna Main Station offers a special service for tourists: You can rent several bikes at the same time with your credit card, without having to register with Citybike.

How to do it: Leave your credit card details with RadSTATION as security in return for the desired number of Citybike tourist maps (one per bike) for the desired duration - and off you pedal. A Tourist Card entitles use of a Citybike. Billing takes place upon return of the card, customers pay on the spot (Map rental fee: € 2.50 per day + the trip fee of Citybike Vienna).

Bicycle and public transportation

BIKE AND RIDE

All important traffic junctions – especially at subway stations – provide the opportunity to park bicycles (about 17,000 bicycle stands) if one wants to change to public transportation. Parking is free of charge: it is recommended, however, to lock the bicycle to prevent theft.

BICYCLE TRANSPORT IN VIENNA'S PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

U-Bahn (Subway)

Mon-Fri: if a working day: 9am-3pm and after 6.30pm, Sat, Sun and holidays all day. Free! Entry is permitted only through those doors that are specially marked with a bicycle symbol. In the subway, please always place your bicycle perpendicular to the direction in which the train travels.

Bicycles cannot be carried on buses and trams for safety reasons. Exception: folded bicycles.

Schnellbahn (City Train)

Bicycles are permitted at any time in every train. Reservations are not possible, and bicycles can only be taken on board if sufficient free spaces are available.

Prices

Within Vienna, you will need a discounted single ticket for your bicycle. For trips outside Vienna, special tickets are offered at the ÖBB rate (single, weekly or monthly tickets).

Bicycles on trains

The Austrian Federal Railways (ÖBB) offer different opportunities to take your bicycle on your trip: On most regional and long-distance trains you can take your bicycle along. For this, you will need a special ticket. It can be purchased for a price of 10 % of a full price ticket (2nd class) for the desired route (a minimum fee of € 2 applies). In addition to this, you can also purchase weekly or monthly tickets for your bicycle. Folding bicycles in their folded state as well as (partially) disassembled and packaged bicycles can be taken along on any train free of charge, provided that they can be stored safely in the areas provided for hand luggage.

REGIONAL BICYCLE TRANSPORT:

No reservation is possible when transporting a bicycle on a regional train (S-Bahn, regional train, Regionalexpress). Bicycles can therefore only be taken along if sufficient free spaces are available.

TAKING BICYCLES ON LONG-DISTANCE TRAINS:

Due to the limited number of spaces, a reservation must be made (against a fee) when taking bicycles along on long-distance routes (Railjet, Intercity, Eurocity, Euronight, express train). The reservation is available at a price of € 3 (online) or € 3.50 (ÖBB customer service / travel centre).

Please note that tandems, recumbent bicycles and/or bicycle trailers can only be taken along in special baggage compartments. Reservations for this cannot be booked online. The popular Biking International option costing € 12 also continues to be available on international routes.

EINFACH RAUS TICKET

With the “Einfach-Raus” Simple Getaway Bicycle Ticket you can start your trip in groups of two to five persons each.

Cost: total group ticket including bicycle transport: € 43 for 2 people, each additional person (max. 5 people on one ticket) for a surcharge of € 4; Applies in Austria on board local and regional trains operated by ÖBB and the Raaberbahn (R- and REX trains or express trains). Valid on the selected day: Monday to Friday 9.00 am to 3.00 am the following day. Saturday, Sunday and public holidays: all day until 3.00 am the following day.

BICYCLES AS BAGGAGE WITHIN AUSTRIA: “HOUSE TO HOUSE BAGGAGE PLUS”

For longer train trips, the Austrian Federal Railway offers a “House to House Baggage Plus” service for bicycles. Your bicycle will be picked up where you are staying (at your hotel, for instance) and sent directly to your ultimate destination. This service should be requested at least two working days ahead, directly at the train station where you buy your ticket or by phone at tel. +43 05 17 17. Pick-up and delivery appointments are available Monday to Friday. The bicycle transport is only possible in connection with a train ticket. Price: € 39 per bicycle.

Information: Tel. +43-5-17 17, www.oebb.at/fahrrad and in the brochure “Mit dem Fahrrad unterwegs” (free of charge in all train stations).

Event tips for cyclists

ARGUS BIKE FESTIVAL

The Argus Bike Festival in the Vienna City Hall Park is held at the start of the biking season in April each year and is a fixed date for passionate cyclists. It includes a bicycle trade show, test parcours, a bicycle flea market, workshops, show programs (“Vienna Air King” dirt contest, etc.) and much more besides. This makes the Argus Bike Festival the largest bicycle event in Austria. www.bikefestival.at
